Dear Colleague,

The ANAC2017 Conference Committee welcomes you to Dallas! This year's conference marks a milestone in ANAC's history as we celebrate 30 years. Just as the HIV epidemic has evolved, so has our organization. Initially founded with a small group of nurses looking to find support and education during a growing health crisis, ANAC is now the leading organization representing nurses from all parts of the globe who are committed to caring for persons living with, and affected by, HIV and its associated comorbidities.

This year's conference features sessions focusing on a range of topics related to domestic and international HIV and viral hepatitis care, treatment, and prevention. Our conference sessions have been designed to pay tribute to our early beginnings, address current issues, and provide a vision of the future. This year, ANAC2017 is pleased to provide participants with the opportunity to learn about the latest and most pressing issues including the care continuum, global health, mental health, cardiovascular disease, viral hepatitis, the latest biomedical HIV prevention strategies, and health policy.

We are fortunate to have some of the leading experts in the field of nursing, medicine, policy, pharmacy, and education who will share their expertise. Our speakers will focus their presentations on our most highly-impacted communities, including African Americans, women, transgender persons, adolescents, and persons who use drugs.

We are also pleased to offer attendees the opportunity to participate in several pre-conference events: a workshop focusing on the use of mobile technology for HIV research; a review course for the ACRN certification exam; and workshop on implicit bias in health care. Through a generous grant from Walgreen's, we are pleased to offer community-based learning opportunities where participants will have the chance to visit local organizations and learn about innovative models of care.

In addition, ANAC has organized a special pre-conference reception at the Bush Presidential Library where attendees will have an opportunity to visit the library and celebrate the contributions of President Bush's establishment of PEPFAR, a program that has greatly impacted the health of millions of people living with HIV globally.

The Dallas Chapter has been working to create a fun and lively Gala as well as our annual celebration of life. While in Dallas, we hope you will spend time getting to know the area including the Dallas Arboretum and Botanical Gardens, the Sixth Floor Museum, the Nasher Sculpture Center, and Pioneer Plaza. Of course, we also hope you will enjoy some of the award-winning local restaurants and nightspots.

Many thanks go out to our colleagues on the national conference committee: Vincent Guilamo-Ramos, Mitchell Wharton, Lisa Lawrence, Ella Curry, LaRon Nelson and Victoria Langston. A special thank you to Erin Myers and Carole Treston at the National ANAC office without whose leadership none of this would be possible. Thank you to the ANAC Board of Directors who have been continually engaged and supportive of the committee. We would also like to thank the Dallas Chapter for serving as our host committee during conference. Finally, we are grateful to you, our participants. Enjoy ANAC2017!

General Information

ANAC 2017 Conference Objectives

- 1 Analyze strategies to sustain and advocate for ongoing advances in HIV/AIDS care given shifts in the domestic political, economic and social climate.
- 2 Discuss innovative biomedical, psychosocial and behavioral research in HIV and associated co-morbidities, with an emphasis on:
 - Symptoms
 - Self-management strategies
 - End of life and palliative care
 - Prevention and wellness
 - Technology
 - Drivers and intervention strategies that impact disparities in HIV incidence and quality outcomes
- 3 Evaluate the global impact of nurses' role in addressing HIV health disparities, HIV risk and social determinants of health.
- 4 Demonstrate an enhanced ability to care for key populations living with, or affected by HIV and related co-morbidities.
- 5 Improve nurses and other professionals' capacity to identify, treat and care for individuals at risk for and/or living with viral hepatitis.

Registration

All attendees must register for the conference. The registration desk is clearly marked and is located on the second floor and is open during the following hours:

Wednesday:	8 a.m. – 5 p.m.
Thursday:	8 a.m. – 5 p.m.
Friday:	8 a.m. – 5 p.m.
Saturday:	8 a.m. – 1 p.m.

What the Registration Fee Includes

The registration fee includes admission to:

- All conference education sessions, exhibits, poster sessions and roundtable discussions
- The gala reception
- Lunch in the exhibit hall
- Coffee breaks
- CE contact hours
- All non-member registrants will receive a one-year ANAC membership

Name Badges

The official conference name badge must be worn for access to all conference educational sessions, exhibit hall and social functions. For your safety, do not wear your badge outside the convention hotel.

Continuing Education Accreditation

The Association of Nurses in AIDS Care is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Please call Erin Myers at 330-670-0101 for more information about contact hours.

Evaluations

Evaluations and certificates will be available online. Following the conference, attendees will receive an email that includes instructions for accessing conference evaluations. CE certificates will be available for downloading upon successful completion of evaluations. ANAC will also post a link to conference evaluations on our website and conference app.

General Information

Regency Ballroom

This room is located at the top on the 2nd floor of the hotel.

Please also feel free to ask hotel staff or ANAC staff for assistance.

Gala Reception

All attendees are invited to attend the gala reception at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday. There will be food served with a cash bar and will feature local entertainment followed by a DJ for dancing.

The theme for this year's gala is a country and western hoedown. Please wear your boots, hats, vests and chaps. Line dance lessons and a barbecue feast will be provided.

Awards Ceremony

The awards ceremony will be held on Saturday evening following the Celebration of Life. Food will be served and a cash bar will be available. You can then spend time with your new and old friends and enjoy your last evening in Dallas. Please note that there is a cost of $30 to attend the awards ceremony and this is not included in your registration.

Celebration of Life

The Celebration of Life will be a time to share your memories and stories about those we have lost. There will be a short musical program by the Turtle Creek Choral and readings by the local ANAC Dallas chapter members.

Poster Session

Posters represent research, clinical practice, administration and education projects developed by our membership. Please check the conference schedule for poster session times.

Student Poster Award

The student poster award winner will be announced on Friday at 12:30 p.m. in the Exhibit Hall.

Roundtables

Roundtables and affinity sessions provide opportunities for nurses and other members of the healthcare team from all settings to share information and stimulate dialogue on specific topics. In addition to information sharing and problem solving opportunities, at previous ANAC conferences they have resulted in the formation of networking groups and other actions. Roundtables have peer-reviewed content and resultant discussion on a specific topic while affinity sessions are more informal networking opportunities. More information can be found in the Friday section of the program.

Exhibits

Exhibits are located in the Regency Ballroom. ANAC welcomes government agencies, community-based organizations, pharmaceutical companies and many others to showcase their exhibits. Please check the conference schedule for day and time, complimentary lunch and snack breaks.

This year we will hold a series of events in the Exhibit Hall, including lunch and posters on Thursday, networking opportunities via roundtables and affinity sessions on Friday and a raffle on Saturday. To participate in the raffle, visit and get stickers on your exhibit card from 12 booths during the conference and drop your card at the registration desk (2nd floor) before 10:30 a.m. on Saturday to be entered in a prize drawing.

ANAC Annual Business Meeting

Come hear about the operations, programs and finances of ANAC. Meet current and newly elected ANAC board members. All ANAC members are encouraged to attend. This meeting will be held on Thursday, November 2 at 4:30 p.m. in the Gold Room.

New to ANAC & HIV Session

All registrants that are first-time attendees are urged to attend this session. This session will give you an overview of the organization and the annual conference. You will find this a very worthwhile use of your time.

ANAC Merchandise Booth

All registrants are encouraged to stop by the ANAC merchandise booth, located on the 2nd floor. Open during registration hours.

ANAC 30th Anniversary Exhibit

At the rear of the Exhibit Hall is a very interesting display and networking area that features artifacts, recordings, artistic renderings and other representations of the thirty-year history of ANAC and the nursing response to the HIV/AIDS epidemic. Meet and relax with colleagues and new and old friends at the booth to trace our collective involvement from 1987 to today.

Leveraging Advance Practice Nurses in Delivery of PrEP at Pharmacies

The demand and uptake of PrEP continues to increase as more providers and consumers are learning about this HIV prevention intervention. Several successful models of PrEP delivery have been developed, including Walgreens design where pharmacists and nurse practitioners are offering HIV PrEP services at the in-store Healthcare Clinic directly to the community. The panel will discuss opportunities and challenges for PrEP uptake and advance understanding of PrEP services in a local pharmacy setting.

Mission mPossible: Using Mobile and Web-Based Technology to Advance HIV/AIDS Prevention and Treatment Research

This session will feature dynamic presentations by researchers who are innovating the use of mobile phones and other online technologies to advance research on the prevention and treatment of HIV/AIDS. Presentations will cover the use of mobile technologies in various domains of interest to HIV/AIDS nursing research including HIV prevention, symptom monitoring, HIV self-management, care coordination and social support. Presenters and attendees will engage in discussions regarding common pitfalls involved in the use of mobile technology in research, strategies for successful implementation and tips to increase the competitiveness of mHealth research-related grant proposals. The session will include brief demonstrations of selected mobile solutions currently used in HIV/AIDS research, including uses in program science and implementation research designed to narrow gaps in HIV care continuum. Participants will have the opportunity to briefly present and discuss their own ideas regarding integrating mobile technology into their research and receive feedback from session attendees.

Strategies to Identify and Address Stigma, Health Literacy and Provider Bias

The role of stigma and implicit bias has a tremendous impact on health, health disparities and outcomes. This session will review strategies and address how the intersection of stigma, health literacy and provider bias can impact care. This session will be led by Dr. Rebecca Vargas-Jackson who is an experienced, highly qualified bi-lingual, bi-cultural physician. She has worked more than 20 years in the U.S. and overseas directing and supervising professional teams in charge of developing, planning, designing, organizing, supervising, managing, monitoring and evaluating national and international programs and projects targeting culturally diverse populations. Dr. Vargas-Jackson is an expert lecturer on Cultural Competence in Health Care, CLAS-Standards, health literacy and similar topics. (15-20 attendees max)

Off-site Community Learning Sessions

Wednesday, November 1

9 a.m. – Noon

(pre-registration required)

AIDS Services of Dallas (ASD)

ASD is an innovative, nationally recognized model of congregate housing and support services for low-income and homeless individuals and families living with HIV/AIDS. This unique program provides comprehensive case management, medical case management, transportation, food services, home health care and volunteer support to its residents. The range of services are designed to remove barriers to care and to empower the residents to cope with the cyclical impact of HIV/AIDS. This session will include a talk and stop at each of the four apartment complexes discussing the individual needs of the clients served at each building. The group will be taken to the "Penthouse" on top of one of the buildings to see the view of downtown Dallas then engage in a Q & A session with staff to discuss their roles and how they fulfill the supportive needs of their clients. (25 attendees max)

Prism Health North Texas

Initially established in 1986 as AIDS Arms, Inc. and recently renamed Prism Health North Texas, this organization is the largest community-based AIDS service organization in North Texas providing coordinated and comprehensive HIV services. The mission of Prism Health North Texas is to combat HIV/AIDS in the community by improving the lives and health of individuals living with the disease and preventing its spread. Prism Health North Texas programs reach out to individuals at risk, identify those who are HIV+, link them to care, provide HIV medical treatment and psychosocial support and help reduce transmission risk. As part of this community experiential learning opportunity, participants will get an opportunity to visit the Prism Health North Texas location and learn more about their unique programs and services. Speakers from the program's different service areas including research, the Home Again program (for homeless individuals), PrEP program, and the reentry program will discuss their unique programs' services and approach to caring for persons living with HIV. Small tours of the clinic, in particular the research department will be provided. (25 attendees max)

PrEP: Expanding Access and Successful Models of Care

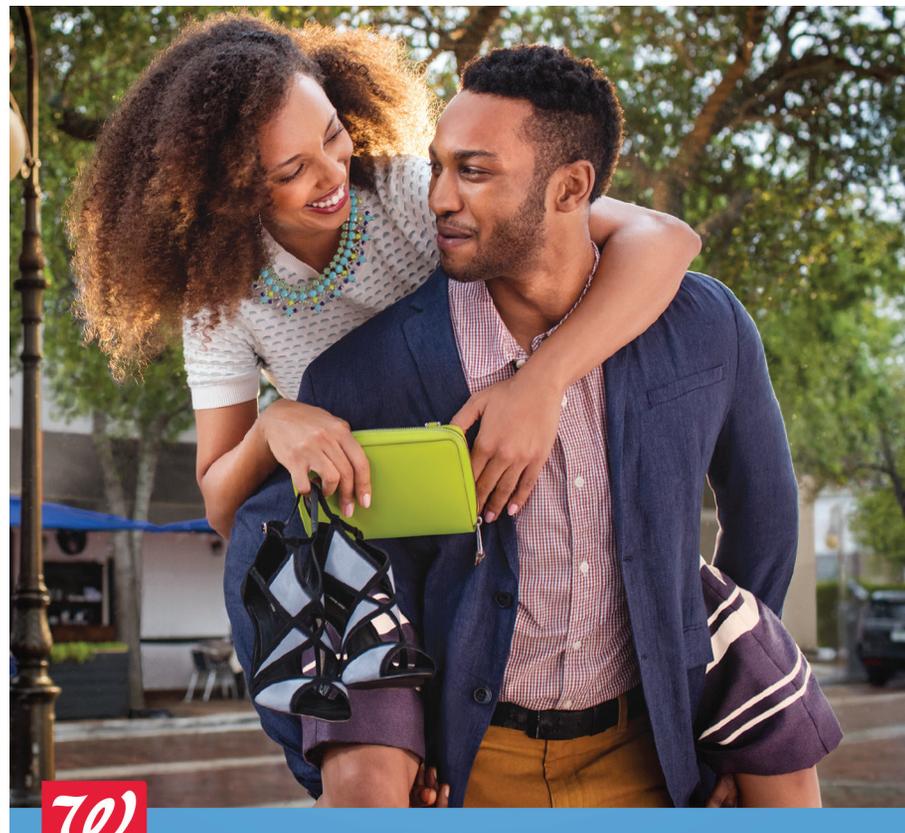

9 – 10 a.m.

Room: Florentine

The demand and uptake of PrEP continue to increase as more providers and consumers are learning about this HIV prevention intervention. Several successful models of PrEP delivery have been developed, including pharmacist-led PrEP clinics. This session will provide an overview of some of the challenges and successful solutions that have been developed, review lessons learned, and culminate with a tour to a local Dallas pharmacy where a team of pharmacists and nurse practitioners are offering HIV PrEP services within their in-store clinic directly to the community. (15 attendees max)

ACRN Review Course

Wednesday, November 1

8 a.m. – 2 p.m.
Room: Oak

ACRN review course

Enhance your career by becoming certified in HIV/AIDS nursing. Board certification is highly valued and provides formal recognition of HIV/AIDS nursing knowledge. Certification allows RNs/APRNs to be recognized as ACRN or AACRN. This year, come enjoy a snapshot of the ACRN Review! Taught by the same great instructors that have been teaching the MidAtlantic AIDS Education and Training Center ACRN Review Course for last 10 years, this 4-hour mini review will provide an overview for many of the major test categories: opportunistic infections, antiretroviral treatment, pathophysiology, epidemiology and special populations. A review of test taking strategies will also be included. Pre-registration is required.

George W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum

George W. Bush Presidential Library Pre-conference Reception

The ANAC Public Service Award will be bestowed upon President George W. Bush for his vision and leadership in establishing and championing the PEPFAR program. Since its inception in 2003, the President's Emergency Program for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR) has provided lifesaving treatment to 11.5 million people living with HIV in more than 100 countries. ANAC nurses have worked in PEPFAR programs and we gratefully acknowledge the President's commitment to compassionate care for people living with HIV.

Transportation will leave the hotel at 3:30 p.m. and return at 8 p.m. This is an informal event, comfortable business attire is appropriate. Proceeds will help support ANAC global efforts, including nurse workforce professional development and member and chapter support. Tickets are required for this event.

ANAC at 30: Living into the Visions of Our Founders, Leaders, and Members

Dr. Ella Pritchard Curry is a nurse historian whose doctoral research captured oral histories of nurses who were among the earliest clinicians, educators, and researchers to encounter and respond to persons with HIV infection in the United States, and who acted to found the Association of Nurses in AIDS Care in 1987. She is also a clinician who has worked in HIV care in the metropolitan Washington, D.C. area for 27 years. Dr. Curry will review the scientific and socio-cultural contexts in which nurses practiced during the pre-treatment years of 1981-1987, followed by historical highlights of ANAC's three decade evolution as the recognized association of leaders and providers in expert HIV nursing practice, advocacy, education, policy and research.

House/Ball Culture and Community-Based Collaborations for HIV Prevention and Social Support

The House/Ball community is a unique cultural formation that consists of Black and LatinX LGBT people, many of whom are disproportionately impacted by the HIV epidemic and other structural vulnerabilities. This presentation discusses principles and offers examples of ways that community-based organizations can and should work with House/Ball communities to provide more support for HIV prevention and treatment among black LGBT communities, particularly in the Midwest.

Assessment and Treatment of Individuals with HIV/AIDS and co-morbid mental health concerns: Thirty years of experience

Mental health resources are lacking for the community in general and even more so for individuals with HIV/AIDS. Mental health concerns for this population are extremely broad including persons with chronic mental health issues to individuals struggling to accept their diagnosis. Integrated care for individuals with HIV/AIDS is limited but provides positive results for patients. Psychopharmacological intervention and other treatment are often overlooked. Patients benefit from mental health intervention and increased access to care. However, knowledge on best practice is sometimes lacking or the resources are unavailable. This session will increase understanding of mental health concerns for individuals with HIV/AIDS, increase the ability to assess, diagnose and treat co-morbid mental health concerns in individuals with HIV/AIDS and increase comfort with prescribing psychotropic agents.

Planetary Health and the Role of Nursing

It falls to nurses and midwives, the globe's largest cadre of the health workforce, to assume a leadership role in addressing planetary health. Nurses are key to achieving sustainable development goals that, like the planetary health framework, focus on environmental sustainability and human well-being. Nurses contribute to resilient health systems, as trusted leaders and providers of health care, and as advocates and change-makers impacting the world.

The Important Role of Safety Net Providers in Addressing Health Disparities in Reproductive Health Care

A focus on the critical role safety net providers, like Planned Parenthood, play in increasing access to health care and addressing disparities in access to reproductive health care and HIV care. In order to understand these disparities in health care, the intersection of racism, sexism, classism, xenophobia, and other systemic barriers will be discussed. The plenary will also highlight the vital role that Planned Parenthood plays in the health care system and current threats that could potentially thwart progress to addressing barriers to care across the United States.

Project ECHO: Expanding Access to HIV and Hepatitis C Care

We are pleased to have Dr. Karla Thornton, Associate Director of the ECHO Institute, as our plenary speaker who will provide an overview of Project ECHO and its impact on expanding care for persons living with HIV, viral hepatitis, and other associated conditions.

Project ECHO (Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes) is a collaborative model of medical education and care management that empowers clinicians everywhere to provide better care to more people, right where they live. Launched in 2003, Project ECHO has dramatically increased access to specialty treatment in rural and underserved areas by providing front-line clinicians with the knowledge and support they need to manage patients with complex conditions such as: hepatitis C, HIV and tuberculosis. This model has addressed disparities in access to care, rising costs, systemic inefficiencies, and unequal or slow diffusion of best practices. Across the United States and globally, policymakers have recognized the potential of ECHO to exponentially expand workforce capacity to treat more patients sooner, using existing resources.

Sexually Transmitted Infections Update and Interesting Cases

Rates of sexually transmitted infections (STIs) in the US continue to increase. In 2015 over 2 million bacterial STIs were reported in the US including a total of 395,216 cases of gonorrhea and 1,526,658 cases of chlamydia. While most providers are easily able to recognize typical symptoms of STIs such as urethral discharge, asymptomatic and atypical presentations many often go undiagnosed with potential for long term complications. Uncommon STIs have limitations in diagnosis and are often based on clinical suspicion rather than reliance on diagnostic testing. Providers may not be up-to-date and current on CDC recommendations for screening and treatment in the face of emerging antibiotic resistance.

*NMAC leads with race to urgently fight for health equity

Columbia University School of Nursing congratulates Jeffrey Kwong, DNP, MPH, ANP-BC, FAANP on his appointment as President of the National Association of Nurses in AIDS Care (ANAC).

As Columbia Nursing celebrates 125 years of innovation in education, practice, research and policy, we acknowledge all of our alumni, faculty and staff who are building the future of nursing and the future of health care.

We Love Nurses!

Thank you ANAC members for 30 years
of providing care to people living with HIV

Learn more at aidsunited.org

Networks of people living with HIV were important in the early days of the epidemic and they are just as important today. It is PLHIV networks—whether focused on advocacy, education, social support or recreation—that enable PLHIV to:

- Determine our own agenda;
- Select leadership of our own choosing (rather than having our leaders determined by others);
- Hold said chosen leadership accountable;
- Speak with a collective voice;
- Overcome self-stigmatization; and
- Improve quality of life and health outcomes.

That's why the SERO PROJECT (www.seroproject.com), a U.S.-based national network of PLHIV, created the Network Empowerment Project, to facilitate the creation and strengthening of PLHIV networks, particularly those representing key populations.

Since the first days of the epidemic, nurses have been a critical link, connecting people with HIV to each other and sharing information and inspiration that gave us hope when hope was a rare commodity. It was those connections and that hope that led to the peer support, PLHIV networks, advocacy and activism that has so profoundly changed what it means to live with HIV.

Indeed it was two nurses in San Francisco—Bobbi Campbell, who was living with AIDS, and Helen Scheitinger, who worked with Dr. Marcus Conant, a leading AIDS doctor—who helped bring together, for the first time, a group of people with AIDS from around the country. When that group gathered, in Denver in June of 1983, they wrote a now iconic self-empowerment manifesto, the Denver Principles, that asserted the right of people with AIDS to a collective voice in the decisions and policy-making that would so profoundly affect our lives.

We thank you, we salute you and we look forward to continuing to working with ANAC members to reduce HIV-related stigma, discrimination and criminalization through strengthening of the voices and networks of people living with HIV.
